

IKEA welcomes Plaisio store to the Airport Commercial Park

IKEA, a Foullis Group company, has welcomed a new Plaisio store to its renovated IKEA Airport store, located in the Airport Commercial Park. The new addition, situated next to INTERSPORT and Holland & Barrett stores, creates a unique and comprehensive shopping experience for visitors.

As Mr. Vassilis Foullis, Chairman of Foullis Group, stated: "We are delighted to welcome one of Greece's leading companies to a space that aims above all to offer unique and integrated shopping experiences. Our priority is to evolve the omnichannel philosophy for the benefit of the consumer, providing increasingly personalized services. With every step we take, we are shaping a new retail reality through a holistic model of sophisticated retail that is accessible to everyone."

Mr. Kostas Gerados, CEO of Plaisio Computers, commented: "Our 26th Plaisio store in the Airport Commercial Park is the largest in our network and represents the company's new retail identity. It is strategically located to serve the eastern suburbs, as well as parts of the northern and southern suburbs. The space offers ample parking, operates on Sundays for six months of the year, and coexists with three exceptional brands. For the customer, it is a practical choice. In a single visit, they can meet a wide range of needs: furniture and home accessories from IKEA, sportswear and footwear from INTERSPORT, tech products, home appliances and stationery from Plaisio, and wellness products from Holland & Barrett."

Now, visitors have everything they need for their home, countless options in tech and home appliances, athletic and casual clothing and footwear, as well as vitamins and nutritional supplements, all in one place.

These stores are housed in a redesigned space, employing over 300 people.

With the opening of its largest and most complete store in the Airport Commercial Park, Plaisio is maximizing its presence in Eastern Attica. This store introduces, for the first time in its entirety, Plaisio's advanced and modern approach to retail. The company's mission remains to continuously evolve and empower consumers by equipping Greece with the latest and most affordable tech and electrical solutions.

The new INTERSPORT store in the Airport Commercial Park marks the brand's 61st location and serves as an ideal destination for all sports and active lifestyle needs. Shoppers will find apparel, footwear, and sports equipment from top brands—whatever your hobby or favorite sport may be, you'll be able to enjoy it passionately and stylishly.

Holland & Barrett, the UK's No.1 chain for vitamins and supplements, welcomes its 10th store in Greece. It presents airport-area visitors—and beyond—with its full range of innovative vitamins and supplements, sports nutrition, natural beauty products, and health foods and beverages. The brand's mission is to make health and wellness a way of life for all, adding quality years to our lives. The Holland & Barrett team, through specialized and ongoing training, gains deep expertise and offers personalized advice tailored to each consumer's individual needs.

Finally, the IKEA Airport store continues to welcome its customers, whether they're seeking ideas and solutions, their favorite furniture and home décor, or delicious Swedish food to enjoy in the restaurant or take home from the Swedish Food Market.
